

MAKING CHANGES.

Senate Busy in Passing Compromise Amendments.

Republicans Vote With Democrats for Specific Duties.

CHEMICAL SCHEDULE.

Senators Talk Learnedly About Boracic Acid.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Mr. Harris almost despaired of making progress with the tariff bill yesterday when Mr. Quay introduced in the senate a bill "To establish a code of laws in the District of Columbia," and asked for its reading in full, which could scarcely have been completed by the end of the legislative day. Democratic senators objected, Mr. Vest saying the evident purpose of Mr. Quay was to delay the tariff bill. The bill was finally returned to Mr. Quay, who intimated that he might bring it up again tomorrow.

Mr. Allen tried in vain to obtain consideration for his Coney resolution and, after a brief discussion of Mr. Peffer's industrial depression resolution, the senate resumed consideration of the tariff bill. The proposed duty on boracic acid was discussed at considerable length by Messrs. Perkins and White of California, Jones of Arkansas, McPherson, Gallinger, Manderson and others.

The pending amendment was that of Mr. Perkins to the amendment of Mr. Jones of Arkansas to change the duty on boracic acid. Mr. Jones' amendment increased the duty from 20 per cent ad valorem to 2 cents per pound. Mr. Perkins' amendment was to increase it to the present rate, 5 cents.

Mr. Harris moved to lay the pending amendment (that of Perkins, to make the duty on boracic acid 5 cents per pound) on the table. The motion was carried by a strict party vote, 31—25.

The question then recurred upon Mr. Jones' "compromise" amendment, to change the duty from 20 per cent to 2 cents a pound. Mr. Aldrich moved to strike out and insert 3 cents. Mr. Harris moved to lay the amendment on the table. Carried, by a vote of 31 to 24.

Mr. Hoar offered an amendment to the Jones amendment, providing for a specific duty of 40 per cent on boracic acid, in place of 2 cents per pound. He wanted a record of Democratic sentiment on the two systems. Mr. Harris remarked he should have it and moved to lay the amendment on the table, which was carried by a practically unanimous vote. Mr. Dolph alone voted in the negative.

The vote then recurred to the Jones compromise amendment, the Republicans voting with the Democrats. Mr. Mills alone voted nay. The vote on the next amendment offered by Mr. Jones, changing the duty on chromic acid from 10 per cent ad valorem to 4 cents per pound (an increase of 28 per cent), was taken without debate. The Republicans again voted with the Democrats and it was adopted—57-2. Mr. Allen and Mr. Mills voting against it.

The next amendment was that increasing the duty on citric acid from 20 to 25 per cent ad valorem. Mr. Harris moved to lay the amendment on the table. It was carried—29 to 20—as was his motion to lay on the table an amendment of Mr. Aldrich to substitute 7 cents per pound for 25 per cent ad valorem on citric acid. The amendment increasing the duty to 25 per cent ad valorem was then adopted.

The next amendment offered by Mr. Jones increased the duty on tannic acid or tannin from 35 to 75 cents per pound. The debate on this item was continued for some time. Just before the senate went into executive session a motion was arranged by which the Democrats agreed not to press the motion to meet at 10 o'clock, with the understanding the morning hour should be limited to one hour and the tariff bill be taken up each day at noon. At 5:35 the doors were closed.

Naval Appropriations.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—After action on some minor bills in the house at 12:17 p. m. yesterday, went into committee on the whole to consider general appropriation bills (Mr. Richardson of Tennessee in the chair), and the naval appropriation bill was taken up. The debate on the bill took a very acrimonious character, and charges and counter-charges of "colonization" in the navy yards were freely passed between Mr. Reed, Mr. Boutelle and Mr. Cummings. At 5 o'clock, the house took a recess until 8 o'clock, the evening session being devoted to private bills.

MURPHY ON RECORD.

The New York Senator Defines His Position on the Tariff.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—The Republican senators by their votes yesterday, and also in private conversation, indicated the purpose of voting for the amendments proposed by the Democratic compromise committee whenever they increased duties and changes from the ad valorem to the specific system.

It was noticeable the Democrats, with the exception of Senator Mills, stood by the committee recommendation. Senators Hill and Irby, concerning whose position there has been speculation, were absent, but Senator Murphy, whose position has been considered somewhat doubtful, stood with his party.

This practically solid vote on the Democratic side has given the Republicans no little concern, as they have been hopeful of creating a division among the Democrats. Some of them predict that the cohesion so far displayed will not continue, but the best information obtainable at this time indicates that however unsatisfactory the bill is to a number of the Democrats it will continue, for the present at least, to receive the voting support of all the Democratic senators, with possibly two exceptions.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

Warm Weather has Stimulated Sales in Seasonable Lines.

New York, May 12.—Bradstreet's review of the state of trade says: "Prolonged warm weather has stimulated farm work as well as sales in seasonable lines of merchandise, but renewed tariff uncertainty tends to prolong the period during which merchants will continue to buy for actual needs only, evidences of which fact have appeared. Bank clearings this week amount to $903,000,000, a decrease of 5.5 per cent from the week before (which showed an increase) and a decrease of 34 per cent compared with the second week of May last year, when total clearings were among the largest on record.

Clearing House Returns.

New York, May 10.—The following list, compiled by Bradstreet's, gives the clearing house returns for the week ending May 10, 1894, and the percentage of increase or decrease as compared with the corresponding week of 1893:

AFTER HORSE-THIEVES.

An Armed Force of Citizens Pursuing a Gang of Outlaws.

MUSKOGEE, Ind. Ter., May 12.—An organized band of horse-thieves took possession a few days ago of one of the ranches of Captain F. B. Severs, west of here, and held it for several days with a large herd of stolen horses, refusing to let the men on the ranch have access to it. This bold act brought the people up into arms, and about 100 citizens, under command of a squad of deputy marshals, went out to capture them. There were fifteen or twenty of the horse-thieves.

When they heard they were being sought, they went to the Seminole country, taking a herd of sixty stolen horses with them, but the deputy marshals and force pursued them and have not yet returned. The first day out one of the thieves was arrested and another shot.

RIPE FOR LYNCHING.

Fuller Details About the Outrageous Murder

Of a Whole Family at Browning, Mo., Yesterday.

SUSPECTS PURSUED.

Mob Will Lynch the Murderers if Caught.

BROOKFIELD, Mo., May 12.—This county was in a fever of excitement yesterday caused by one of the most diabolical crimes ever committed in this portion of the state. Gus Meeks, his wife and two children, little girls, were murdered in cold blood Thursday night, and their bodies thrown in a straw stack for concealment.

William F. Taylor of Browning, a town in the Northern portion of this, Linn, county, is a lawyer and banker, and up to the day of the murder was cashier. He has for the past four or five years been arrested several times on different charges. Last fall he and Meeks, the murdered man, were arrested on a charge of stealing a herd of cattle from a farmer's pasture and driving them to Purdin, where, it is claimed, it was their intention to ship to Chicago in the night. Meeks had his trial and was sentenced to the penitentiary. Taylor gave bond and his trial was put off and was to come up in Milan next week at the Sullivan county circuit court. While in the penitentiary Meeks turned state's evidence, was pardoned and came home and has since lived at Milan with his mother and family. He would of course, have been a dangerous witness against Taylor.

Thursday night William Taylor and his brother, George, a farmer living near Browning, drove to Milan, a distance of twelve miles, in a two-seated buggy. It seems that the Taylor brothers went to the home of Meeks and called him outside the house. Meeks went back into the house after awhile and told his family he was going away to leave the country and that the Taylors were going to assist him, and then the wife said "I and the children will go with you, Gus." They all got ready and left with the Taylors, so the child said yesterday.

George Taylor is a prosperous farmer living three miles from Browning. Yesterday morning a little 7-year-old girl crawled out of a straw stack on the Taylor farm and went across the road to the farm house of Mr. Gooch. She pitifully told her story of how she was awakened the night before while riding along in her father's arms, of how she heard revolvers go off and her parents scream. Then something hit her on the head and she said she went to sleep she guessed and when she awoke she was in the hay-stack. There was blood on her clothing and a bruise on her head.

Before she had finished telling her sorrowful story George Taylor, at 6 o'clock in the morning, was seen approaching the straw stack with a team and harrow and begin harrowing around the stack. The suspicion of the Gooch family was aroused, and they went out and told Taylor the story of the little girl. Taylor at once unhitched the team, and mounting one horse rode off on the run toward Browning. He went to Banker Taylor's home in Browning, and about 7 o'clock the Taylor brothers were seen riding out of town on horseback, going eastward.

The bodies of Gus Meeks, his wife and two children were found in the straw stack, and upon an inquest being held it was found that the father and mother had both been shot and then beaten with some weapon or club.

Although the Taylors left about 7 o'clock yesterday morning nobody was in pursuit of them until afternoon. About that time Prosecuting Attorney Bresnahan and Marshal Crithfield of this city were informed and a posse was formed in this city, going northeast, with a view to heading off the fugitives. Whether they will be captured remains to be seen. At this hour nothing has been heard from the pursuers and pursued. If they reach the Macon county line they will be in rough timber country and stand a good show of getting away. If they are caught short work will certainly be made of them.

The farmers from the entire northern portion of the county have gone out in pursuit and large rewards will be offered if they are not caught soon. Excitement is at a high pitch, as it is the most diabolical crime ever committed in this part of Missouri.

Browning is a live little town of about 1,000 people. For some time past there has been a sort of feud there between the two banks, one of which was Taylor's, originally belonging to Morgan Leonard, capitalist and farmer, highly respected, who died the past year, leaving the bank in the hands of Taylor, his son-in-law. The first crime Taylor was arrested for some three years ago, was on a charge of raising a check that passed through his bank and a bank at Kirksville. Ever since that time Taylor, although acquitted of that charge, has been more or less under a cloud.

A Handsome Wedding Cake.

The photograph of an elaborately decorated wedding cake is displayed in front of Leonard's gallery. The cake itself is large and round, with the usual white frosting, and on the top is an arch of white blossoms and leaves. Suspended from this is a wedding bell, with the word "Marriage" embossed on the surface and hangs directly over a tiny cupid on a pedestal of flowers. The cupid bears a tray, on which are two rings. Made at the French Bakery, 815 Kansas avenue, appears at the bottom of the cake.

SCORED THE A. P. A.

Address of National Hibernian Delegate Withere at Omaha Convention.

OMAHA, Neb., May 12.—The first business before the Hibernian national convention was the report of the committee on revision of the constitution, after which National Delegate Withere read his annual address. He urged the establishment of headquarters for the order and recommended that the executive officers live near each other. The establishment of Hibernian labor bureaus in every city of the country is urged. On the order's duty to Ireland, he asked the convention "To again renew its pledges of loyalty to the gallant sons of Erin, who in the arena of an alien parliament are making such a grand and sublime struggle for Irish liberty and for the principles of Irish nationality."

After urging that the stars and stripes be raised over Catholic schools, President Withere said:

It has been my pride and honor to participate in at least one hundred occasions in different sections of the great republic, in which our brethren illustrated in a practical way their love for the free institutions of our common country, and confounded our enemies by raising the emblem of our common faith and the colors of our common country over the altars of the Catholic schools in their several localities. In these modern times when the domination of the Catholic hierarchy are organizing all over the land for the avowed purpose of ostracizing and destroying us in business, public and social life, our protests cannot be too strong and our vindication of the truth of history too pointed. It is our duty to ourselves, to our children and to our children's children to stand up like many men and combat this modern Know-Nothingism which is spreading over the land in the guise of an organization called the A. P. A. In my judgment, brethren, it is our duty to first take the American order and its principles with every weapon with which American freedom should fight the battle of right and justice against the scourge of bigotry and intolerance, which should find no place under free institutions, but which unfortunately runs riot through our country at the present time. True men love the people and stand up in a manly way and assert their God-given rights, but have no consideration for those who sink and in a cowardly way fight to keep up the doctrine of citizenship, which is an unworthy boast, thereby proving themselves unworthy to enjoy the American franchise. Let each of us stand up for justice and equality with all men before the law. The history of our country proves the fact that the Irish and the Catholic were the foremost and the bravest in the great struggle for the gaining of liberty for this land, and that they have since the same people fought the bravest and shed their blood most willingly and made the greatest sacrifice to perpetuate the same free institutions.

KILLED THE ELEPHANT.

Tip, the New York Man Killer, Poisoned to Death.

NEW YORK, May 12.—Wednesday it was decided to kill Tip, the big man-killing elephant, yesterday, by giving him pure prussic acid. He had nothing to eat Thursday, so that his stomach should be entirely empty of food.

At 6:30 o'clock yesterday everything was in readiness and Otto Mops, for years an animal trainer, walked up to the cage and handed Tip an apple that had a big dose of cyanide of potassium hidden in it. He put it in his capacious mouth. But when he crunched it between his teeth he evidently felt that there was something wrong with the taste and spat it out. Mops then gave him a piece of bread containing about two ounces of the drug, but the big fellow, after munching it slowly, couple of minutes, threw it also to the floor. About an hour afterward the violent motions of his head, body and trunk became less rapid and his legs seemed to be getting weak. This lasted only a short time, however, and then he regained his wonted vigor.

At 4:19 he gave up the ghost and died without a struggle. After his demise the authorities waited an hour to be positive that Tip was not shamming before they permitted the members of the press to view the remains.

LOCOMOTIVE FIREMEN.

Row Over a $100,000 Shortage at the Terre Haute Convention.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., May 12.—The board of grand masters and the grand executive board of Locomotive Firemen yesterday considered the complaints of firemen against Chief Sargent, the latter having refused to sanction a strike on the Chicago and Eastern Illinois after the firemen had voted almost unanimously in favor of it.

A little diversion in the meeting was the reading of the published statements about a $100,000 shortage in the Brotherhood funds, and another about a big row between Chief Sargent and Secretary Treasurer Arnold when the latter demanded to know what had become of the funds. The officers believe these stories were instigated by disgruntled members of the order who now pretend loyalty to the American railway union. The fact is the strike fund never reached but $69,000, and was in charge of Chairman Hines of the grand trustees. Its disposition has been fully accounted for.

Postal Telegraph Advocates.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Mr. Marlon C. Butler, president of the Farmers' Alliance and Industrial union, made an argument before the house committee on postoffices yesterday in support of postal telegraph legislation. The Alliance favored the postal telegraph scheme because it would correct an evil of monopoly. Representative Maguire of California also spoke in continuation of his argument on the subject, which he began last week.

Assembling of Congress.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—The bill of Representative Crain of Texas to change the date for the assembling of congress was favorably reported to the house yesterday. Democrats and Republicans of the committee joined in unanimous report. The second session is to begin on the first Monday in January instead of December as at present.

QUEEN WANTS "FAUST."

Henry Irving Soon to be Knighted—Other Theatrical News.

LONDON, May 12.—Queen Victoria has commanded the performance of the opera of "Faust" at Windsor castle for next week. The prince and princess of Wales, the duke and duchess of York, the Princess Beatrice (Princess Henry of Battenberg), the duke and duchess of Fife and the Princess Alix of Hesse, have made another round of the theaters, much to the satisfaction of the theatrical managers whose business naturally increases beneath the smiles of royalty, the royal theater goes during this tour of the places of amusement visited the lyceum, Hay Market Vaudeville and the St. James theaters.

It is rumored that Henry Irving is soon to be knighted. Augustus Daly's promise of another Shakespearean production has excited the greatest curiosity. It is supposed that Mr. Daly intends to produce "Cymbeline" which Mr. Irving also intends to revive.

UNITED MINE WORKERS.

Their Society Is Unique Among Labor Organizations—President John McBride.

The United Mine Workers of America, at whose behest the great coal strike was commenced, is unique among labor organizations in that it includes under one executive head assemblies of Knights of Labor and trade unions. Its president, John McBride, also master workman of National Trades

Assembly 135 of the Knights, which united with the National Protective union in 1890 for the purpose of bringing all organized miners within one jurisdiction, so as to secure unity of action on all questions affecting the entire body of workmen and prevent the clashing of interests that should be identical.

Mr. McBride was chosen chief executive of the united organizations at the start and has held the position ever since. He was formerly an influential member of the National Federation of Miners and has been prominent in miners' organizations ever since 1883, when he was first elected president of the local union in Stark county, O., over which he presided until 1888. He is prominent also in the National Federation of Labor and came very near being elected president of that body last year at Chicago.

Mr. McBride was born in Wayne county, O., in 1854, and removed to Massillon in his childhood. His parents were in humble circumstances, and his educational opportunities were of an extremely limited order. He went to work in the Stark county mines at 9 years of age and became a member of the union while still a mere youth. His election to the presidency of the union was coincident with his taking a seat in the state legislature, where he served two terms—in 1883 and 1885—as a representative from Stark county, being prominent on the Democratic side. He served as state commissioner of labor during Governor Campbell's term of office and was the candidate for secretary of state on the Democratic ticket in 1886.

Final action will be taken by the Pythian convocation in Washington next August.

The factory at Conway Springs, in this county, is also idle.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 12.—A letter written by Colonel W. R. Morrison to one of his Democratic friends has been made public.
